

Decoding Contemporary China

July 4th, 2022
– July 30th, 2022

The 21st century is widely expected to be the 'Asian century'. As Asian hubs of development, innovation, employment, culture, and region-defining geopolitics emerge and grow, it is crucial that we turn our gaze from the West to the East – including players such as China.

In this 4-week program, we will critically examine China's trajectory and answer questions such as:

- What are the driving forces that have shaped contemporary China's identity?
- What are the objectives, and grand-strategic imperatives, behind China's foreign policy moves?
- What role does China see itself playing in Asia?
- Can China continue to be indispensable to global supply chains?
- Can China's state machinery respond effectively to the growing challenges of healthcare, the environment, and continued economic growth?

This program is offered jointly by Christ University's Centre for East Asian Studies (CEAS), and AsiaSlate.
