They spoke about topics about the following important topics:

1. Internships for students.
2. Women entrepreneurship.
3. Funding and raising capital.
4. The challenges in starting up a new venture.
5. Their respective journeys and their inspiration.
6. Innovation and its importance in entrepreneurship.

KEY POINTS

The workshop panel emphasized on the importance of internships for students in undergraduate and post-graduate courses. Many of them have also offered internships in their respective organizations to the student organizers and students of both the courses.

They spoke about the changing landscape of women entrepreneurs and how many industries are having a greater number of female entrepreneurs. They also spoke about how integral it is for women to start their ventures and its impact on our society and business landscape.

Many of the entrepreneurs present on the panel spoke about the sources of external and internal funding and emphasized the various stages at which capital should be raised.

They were all asked to share a brief about their journeys, the challenges faced by them and how they overcame those challenges which gave a deep insight into budding entrepreneurs amongst the audience.

Innovation was a major topic that was discussed during the event and each of the entrepreneurs emphasized the need for innovation, the different forms of innovation and the way innovation differs from one organization to another.
