Summary

Hey, this is Shivanshu

During childhood, I was an underdog.

I always wanted to get the first rank in academics, win that Diya-making competition and be the best at that fancy dress contest.

However, even after trying a lot, I never came first. Throughout my school life, my goal was just to become a topper in my class.

A motivational pep talk from my father worked like magic. I started working even harder (and smarter.)

Finally, it happened. I scored 95.2% in class 12th and became not only the class topper but the city topper!

I achieved my biggest dream, topped the whole city, and became kind of a mini-celebrity for a while.

Was I happy?

For a short while, yes. But the happiness quickly faded away.

I went to Christ University (one of the best colleges in the country) for my Graduation. Again huge achievement. In college, I acquired many practical skills, overcame my fear of public speaking, and guess what?

I cracked a consulting Job with an MNC. These all were massive achievements for my family and relatives.

Was I happy?

Same answer: Yes, for a while.

These achievements have helped me in my life. But, I realized that all this while I was working for someone else's definition of success, not mine. That was the root cause of my dissatisfaction.

What did I do next?

I QUIT MY JOB!

Yes, I did it. I realized that I am a creative person and time flies when I am working on something that requires creativity.

I recalled that I did a course on digital marketing and, to date, all those concepts were afresh in my memory and amazed me. Also, I was fond of making videos and started with YouTube but stopped after some time.

With that in mind, I started learning Digital Marketing again and creating content related to entrepreneurship, marketing, and self-improvement on LinkedIn and Instagram.

Within 4 months I grew my Instagram account to 28K followers and got around 4 Million views on my reels.

On LinkedIn, my goal is to help you make the most of the platform. Whether it is profile optimization, approaching recruiters, or content creation, I have got you covered.
