Blessed to live in a world rich in ecological diversity and cultural diversity, but what if we are not worth enough to hold it up with proud and handover it to the next generation to nurture it. Here let's have a walk through the recent ecological mis-happenings due to our exploitation of nature and gaze at miraculous interventions by few real heroes in India, reviving some beautiful parcels of torn down landscapes.

Still dreaming of a world, where humans are superior to the entire nature or a world in balance?

Let's have an overview on design approach to an industrial campus, Kerala, with an objective of turning, 'SPACE TO HABITAT'

Report of the Event

The School of Architecture, CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Kengeri Campus, in association with AR. Susan Vinu (Practicing landscape architect) organized a master class on the Landscape design approach on 11 October 2021. Ar. Susan Vinu, B.Arch-TKM College of Engineering_2009-2014. M.Arch- School of Planning and Architecture-Delhi_2014-2016. Principal Architect at “On The Soil”, Kanirapally. Visiting Faculty at TKM School of Architecture, Kollam, was the resource person for the Master Class. The resource person deliberated upon how to develop landscape design in the view point of ecological perspective. The Master class was attended by about 2 faculties from the Architecture Department, CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Kengeri, Campus, and forty-one- fifth semester B.Arch degree students.

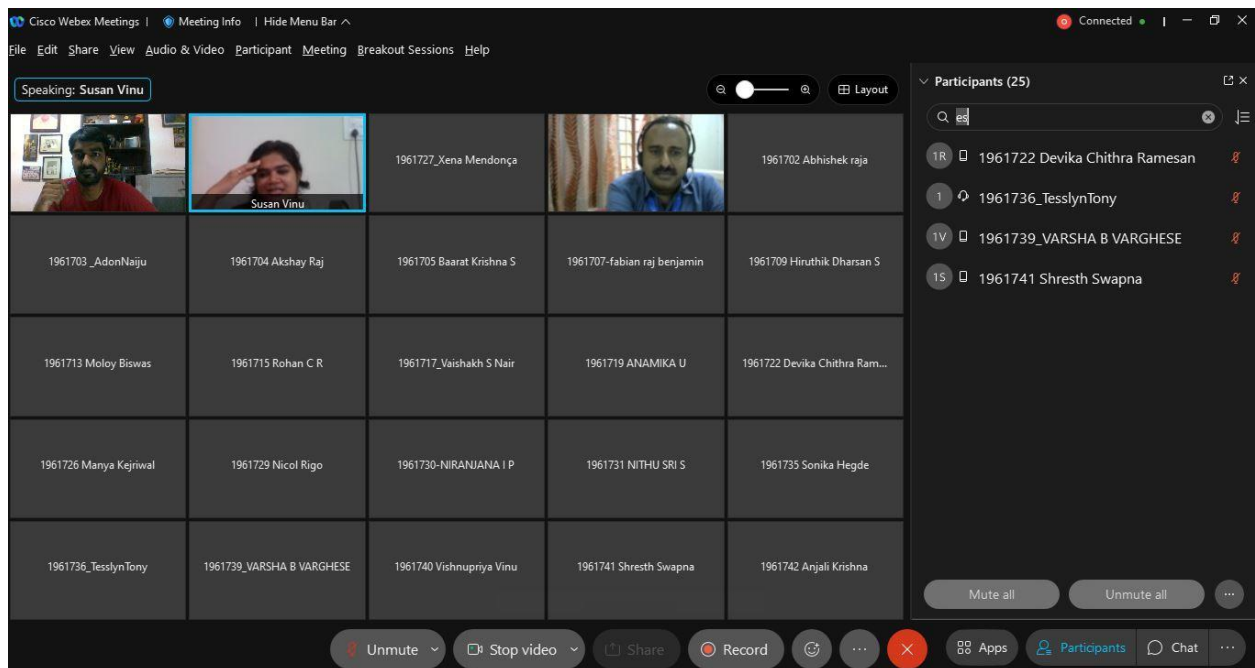

The webinar began with an introduction to the resource person, Ar. Susan Vinu. Prof. Shynu. RV briefed about her experience and contribution to the role as a Landscape designer, and Architect.

Ar. Susan Vinu addressed about the landscape design concept, especially for the ecological benefits. She briefed us about the various steps that are involved in the process of finalizing a landscape design. She briefly explained each of the steps, including documentation, analysis, impact, and duration of design development. She also continued to explain the idea of ecological life, environmental quality, issues of Western Ghats and human behaviour to the nature. After that a QA session was conducted, both students and faculties interacted with ultimate excitement.

Ar. Shynu. RV, assistant professor of the SOA, CHRIST (Deemed to be University), Kengeri Campus, thanked and acknowledged the resource person for her in-depth and insightful talk on the topic showing the various approaches for developing a sites landscape design. The session concluded with a vote of thanks to the resource person, and the participants for active involvement throughout the Master class.
